Art + Design by Jennifer Moore

DESIGNER SPOTLIGHT

Jennifer is an artist, designer and the founder of Monaluna Design, a sustainable design studio based in Walnut Creek, CA. Her design background includes work as a toy designer for Manhattan Toy, a surface and apparel designer for Target and as a decorative accessories designer for Pottery Barn Kids before starting her own business, Monaluna, in 2010.

Over the past 14 years, Jennifer has produced dozens of organic fabric collections with the goal of enriching the marketplace with more sustainable fabric choices. Now partnering with Windham, Jennifer hopes to reach a wider audience and expand into new sustainable products.

LUSH LIFE

"The Lush Life collection was inspired by the big, bohemian florals of the early 70's. The stylized poppies and flowering branches are reminiscent of prints that were in my house when I was growing up, a mix of classic themes with a bit of folk, and a bit of groove. The motifs are all hand-painted to give the collection a natural, imperfect feel. The collection includes several large and lush florals supported by smaller accent prints, and each of the colorways blends well with a number of the semi-solids from the Moonlit collection. All of the fabrics in this collection are GOTS-Certified Organic and Oeko-Tex Certified." ~Jennifer
